TV Forensics: Fact and Fiction

Wednesday, November 13, 2019 • 6:30 PM
Rotary Room, Main Library

Are you a fan
of CSI, NCIS
and other

TV forensic shows? Join us when Jillian Wyckoff, a STEM academic associate at the Discovery Museum in Bridgeport, dissects the fact from the fiction. Everyone loves the drama of an entertaining crime show. But how realistic is the science you see on the screen? Learn about some of the most popular forensic myths shown on TV and the real science behind them!

Presenter:
Jillian Wyckoff
joined the Discovery Museum
in 2016, starting as a per diem STEM Educator. She studied Forensic Biology at the University of New Haven and is excited to bring her knowledge of science to STEM programs..

All programs are free and open to the public. Limited seating.
