

Traveling with Google + Lens

with Gary Webster

Monday, September 29th, 2025

6:30pm - 8:00pm

Fairfield Woods Branch Library

The next time you're planning a trip, use Google Travel to build your itinerary and get inspiration. And then while traveling, use Google Lens and your camera to spot deals, identify landmarks, translate signs and menus, even identify plants you've never seen. Both are free and easy to use on your phone or laptop with a Google account.

In this session, you'll learn how to use these helpful tools to:

- * Find places to go.
- * Book flights: dates, times, airlines.
- * Check hotels and rentals.
- * Explore items of interest.

Don't miss this event and be sure to bring your devices and a working Google account to try these things yourself!

Presenter Gary Webster is a dynamic technology integrator, industrial designer and certified teacher, teaching technology and design in the classroom. With over 15 years' experience, he's taught web design, page layout, podcasting, movie making and photo editing at Southern Connecticut State University.
